Split Switch Threw Cars Off Track on Main Street—Merchandise and Lumber Scattered.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]

THE MARKETS

COTTON.

The Liverpool market opened and closed today about three points better than was due. There were spot sales of 15,000 bales, which is unusual for a half-holiday at this time of the season. All of the Liverpool cables are confirming the reports of good business which their mills are now enjoying, and the large volume of spot sales in the English mart is further evidence of this fact. For the first time this season, port receipts are showing a decrease. The trade is anxiously awaiting the census takers' report of next Tuesday, in which figures will be compiled up to January 1. The American markets opened practically unchanged from yesterday's final quotations and enjoyed a quiet session of the half-holiday, closing 4 to 5 points up.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK FOR 1911

Freeze Did Little Damage—Good Rains—Farmers Making Great Preparations.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 7.—Bankers of this city and others in touch with financial conditions take a most optimistic view of conditions and predict for this year longer strides in development than those which characterized the year just closed. The rainfall of the past six weeks, being as much as five inches in some localities, has put the great cotton fields in excellent condition for preparation for the coming crop. Already farmers are making improvements, broadening the farming area and preparing for the approaching seed time. Wholesale lumbermen and others in touch with the situation say they have not had such prospects and so many advance orders for material for all building purposes since previous to the panic of 1907.

The slight freeze January 2-4, while it did some damage to crops which mature in the mid-winter season, was very light upon the whole, citrus fruits not suffering in the least, since the low temperature did not extend far enough south to reach the section devoted to the more tender varieties, and the Satsuma orange is hardy and will withstand considerable freezing.

All conditions give promise of a most profitable year throughout Texas. In line with these promises many of the large ranches are being converted into small farms, tenanted in most instances by those who have emigrated from the high-priced land districts of the North.

HUCKSTERS SHOULD PAY OCCUPATION TAX.

Important Ruling of Assistant Attorney General—In Line with Policy of Other States.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
Austin, Texas, Jan. 7.—Those engaged in the huckstering business in Texas find themselves face to face with the demand to pay occupation tax. Assistant Attorney General Brady has handed down a ruling in which he says that those engaged in trading merchandise for poultry and other country produce should pay such a tax. For years it has been maintained that the huckster works a disadvantage to merchants in the country, hauling their produce to market and thus preventing people from the country coming to town to trade.

It is said that the ruling of the attorney general, while in harmony with the law, is also a stroke in the interest of merchants who have a fixed place of business, and that it will operate to drive unreliable people and itinerants out of the trade.

The ruling is in line with that of many other states where those in commercial lines pay an occupation tax.

THE BIGGEST EVER.

The great "dissolution sale" of Sam B. Wilson opened with a rush this morning and the rush continued all day. The store was crowded full, so much so that a reporter for The Eagle made several attempts to get in to see Mr. Wilson, but could not reach him. For that reason a write-up of the sale will have to be postponed until Monday.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS MEETING.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
Washington, Jan. 7.—President Taft and two of his cabinet, Secretaries Dickinson and Wilson, will be present at the meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress in Atlanta, March 8-10. This meeting will typify the physical recovery of the South. In an interview today G. Grosvenor Dawe, managing director, said:

"Just fifty years ago the struggle between the states was approaching a head. Consequently this semi-centennial meeting will have unusual significance. The proceedings will cover three days. One whole division of the meeting will be styled 'External Views of the South.'"

The group of speakers is of national weight, including Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, George W. Perkins, Edward Hines, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association; Samuel McRoberts, vice president National City Bank of New York; George Westinghouse, of Pittsburg; and Arthur M. Harris, of N. W. Harris & Co., of Boston.

The first night will be devoted to the subject, "The Solid South of Business" spoken to by one business leader from each state; the second night to "Making the New South Understood," closing with a speech by Colonel Roosevelt on "The South's Obligation in Statesmanship and in Business Endeavor"; the third night to "The South's Higher Thought." The speakers that night will be William G. McAdoo, Dr. E. A. Alderman (invited), Governor Woodrow Wilson and Secretary of War Dickinson.

The final speech of the meeting will be by President Taft, his subject being "A Greater Nation Through a Greater South."

EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT.

Senator Terrell Will Introduce Bills of Far-Reaching Importance.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
Austin, Texas, Jan. 7.—Senator H. B. Terrell will introduce a bill in the Thirty-second legislature providing for a state highway commission to co-operate with local officers of the state in the building of good roads. The bill will also provide for building a continuous state highway, using convict labor in its construction, from the Red river to some point on the gulf. This bill comes as the result of the good roads movement that is so active in all parts of the state.

Senator Terrell also has under consideration a bill which will provide for the building of a highway across the entire state, passing through the most populous sections. The demand for such a road comes from two sources, that of the farmers and those interested in automobile transportation.

HASWELL'S BOOK STORE

TO THE PUBLIC!

On account of the recent revision lowering the Inter-State rates on mixed feeds, I have been enabled to get exclusive sale of the Nutriline Brand of Mixed Feed, made at Crowley, La. This feed was recommended to me personally by Prof. P. S. Tilson, chemist of Houston, as being the best feed from an analytical standpoint, offered to the public, and from his personal experience, and the amount of business being done wherever this feed is introduced justified him in saying that it would meet every requirement. This feed consists of ground corn, alfalfa, rice polish and a small amount of cotton seed meal, steam cooked with black strap molasses. This is a mixture of standard feeds raised to a higher feed value by the addition of molasses and steam cooking. It is a perfectly balanced ration and by Government Reports this Stock Food is rated at 101 as compared with oats and the Dairy Feed at 107. In feeding oats 25 per cent is not digested and Nutriline is easily digested. The price of Nutriline is $1.50 per hundred. You can make your own calculation as to economy. Remember that every sack is guaranteed. I submit this new feed to you for a trial believing it will meet every requirement. Yours truly,
JNO. C. VICK

A CORRECTION.

Mr. H. B. McDowell, night superintendent of the Bryan oil mill, called at The Eagle office this morning and said that the account of the death of John Ivy in yesterday's paper was correct, except in two unimportant particulars. The time when the machinery was stopped for cleaning was 4 a. m. instead of midnight, and the body of the dead negro was not deeply buried in the cottonseed, the face being covered by only a few inches. It is possible that death resulted from heart disease or some other cause than smothering.
